Congressman Pence and other House Republicans have set off a media blitz with their historic floor protest. Both in Washington, DC and back home in Indiana, Congressman Pence is advocating for a commonsense approach to tackling our energy crisis.