Congressman Pence, along with Senator Jim DeMint, Senator Jim Inhofe and Congressman Greg Walden had a press conference earlier in the week to announce the Broadcaster Freedom Act , both in the Senate and in the House, which would prevent the so-called 'Fairness Doctrine' from ever being reinstituted.
The Washington Times has more
...

"Bringing back the Fairness Doctrine today would amount to government control over political views expressed on the airwaves," said Rep. Mike Pence, Indiana Republican and a former broadcaster.

Joining Mr. Pence and Mr. DeMint were Sen. James M. Inhofe of Oklahoma and Rep. Greg Walden of Oregon.

Congressman Pence's full remarks at the press conference can be found HERE .