In testimony this week before the International Trade Commission, Congressman Pence called for the lifting of certain duties placed on steel. Such action would help manufacturing companies in Indiana's Sixth District, by lowering the price of steel they purchase.

You can click here to read more about it in the Muncie Star Press.